

Training Policy

Provide SESS Ltd recognises that training is a vital component to the development of any contract and to our business.

In accordance with our client's needs and expectations, our aim is to provide the highest trained security individuals available to ensure that not only is the contract itself operating to the maximum potential in terms of customer satisfaction, protection and client image but that the staff are motivated and loyal.

Provide SESS Ltd recognises that we must make substantial investments in our training function, which we believe will then offer significant benefits to our customers and staff alike.

We recognise that continual assessment and refresher training is vital to achieving the highest standard of staff available.

We recognise that training programmes, including induction, staff development, and specialist training courses, should always be available and we should always research new programmes as they do become available.

In line with our commitment to continual improvement, Provide SESS Ltd is committed to the ongoing training and development of staff at all levels taking fully into account the needs of our customers, as well as the ability, aptitude and ambition of our employees.

Our minimum level of training available to all staff include:

Provide SESS Ltd Induction
Site Specific training
ACT – Action Counters Terrorism Training
First Aid – Emergency First Aid at work
NVQ Level 2 in Spectator Safety
Physical Intervention Up-Skill training
NVQ Level 2 in Customer service.
